

Learning Innovation Network (LIN) and Student Led Learning (SLL) Symposium 2016

27TH OCTOBER 2016

Theme: The impact of accredited professional development on assessment of, for and as, learning

BREAKOUT STREAMS

Student Led Learning

Where different approaches to assessment using e-portfolios, collaboration and other methods will be examined.

Effective Assessment

Talks on effective continuous assessment, CPD for lecturers new to higher education and the use of images in assessment.

AISHE Publication

(All Ireland Society for Higher Education) sessions will cover some of the contents of the soon-to-be published e-book.

DATE & TIME

Thursday, 27th October 2016
From 9:30 – 16:45

LOCATION

Ashling Hotel, Dublin
Parkgate Street, Dublin 8.

COST

This is a free event, but registration is required.

REGISTRATION

Please register by 12pm Friday, 21st October 2016.

Register at:
<http://lin-sll2016.eventbrite.ie>

CONTACT

Cathy.Fennelly@itcarlow.ie with any questions.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

- ▶ Dr. Ciara O'Farrell Director, Special Purpose Certificate Academic Practice, Senior Academic Developer, Trinity College Dublin (TCD)

Talk title: Creating an Institutional Framework for Assessment of, for and as, Learning

- ▶ Professor Pete Boyd Professor of Professional Learning, University of Cumbria, U.K.

Talk title: Assessment of, for and as, Learning: An International Perspective

- ▶ Professor Tom Collins Chair of the Governing Bodies of both DIT and IT Blanchardstown, Interim CEO of Technological Higher Education Association (THEA)

Talk title: Assessment: The Tail that Wags the Teaching & Learning Dog

Learning Innovation Network (LIN) and Student Led Learning (SLL) Symposium 2016

27TH OCTOBER 2016

SYMPOSIUM PURPOSE

LIN is the Teaching and Learning Network of the Technological sector, and comprises fourteen participating institutions. LIN promotes academic professional development, with a particular emphasis on the promotion of accredited programmes and the LIN flexible pathway. LIN's role also includes the coordination of sectoral activities that seek to operationalise national initiatives in a manner that is appropriate to the Technological sector and its traditions.

Student Led Learning (SLL) is a national group (LIN - Special Interest Group) that supports retention, engagement and transition initiatives which foster student success. SLL adopts an evidenced-based approach and is a mechanism for sharing best practice across Higher Education Institutions, Further Education Colleges and Secondary Schools through collaboration and the dissemination of appropriate resources.

The LIN – SLL Symposium provides much opportunity for attendees to share experiences and discuss developments and innovations in the provision of a quality higher education to an ever more diverse student body. It provides a forum for lecturers and support staff to meet and form new networks with colleagues from across the sector who face similar challenges.

TWITTER
@LIN_LTN
#LINSLL2016

WIFI
Ashling321